

ABSTRACT

~~Disclosed is a~~ A two shot molding method ~~which can be used~~ is provided to make a fastener device having a fastener portion and integral seal portion of different material. ~~More particularly, the invention relates to a~~ The fastener device ~~comprising~~ includes a fastener part having a plastic head and anchor stem with prongs and a flexible seal of different material integral with the fastener part and the two molded together in a two-shot molding technique.